

Trapped in Sand Slide Truck Driver is Rescued

Edward Avery, in Cab of Truck, Caught in Sand Slide at Wilbur and Imprisoned for More Than an Hour While Rescuers Worked Frantically to Release Him—Not Thought to be Badly Injured.

Edward Avery of Lincoln Park, driver of a four-ton International truck for the town of Ulster, had a narrow escape from death this morning when a slide at the Dwyer sandbank in Wilbur covered his truck while he was in the cab.

Imprisoned in the truck for approximately an hour and a half, with the sand pressing upon him, Avery was rescued by members of the Kingston Fire Department and volunteer shovellers under the direction of Deputy Fire Chief Fred Leverich and Michael DeCicco, an experienced man at handling sand.

As far as could be learned, Mr. Avery's only injury received from the terrible experience was a wrenched leg. He was attended by Dr. D. S. Meyers, who was at the scene of the accident and treated him as soon as workers had uncovered his head and part of his body. He was trapped in the sand and from shortly after 10 o'clock until past 11:30.

According to witnesses of the slide, Avery had driven his truck up to the bank to be loaded and then got out of the cab. Shortly after he had alighted from the driver's seat the avalanche of sand started. Thinking he could remove the truck before it would be covered, Avery leaped into the car but could not get it moving in time.

The sand buried the truck, covering the top of the cab to a depth of two feet. It was estimated, with Avery inside.

Men employed at the bank, nine in number, started to dig for the buried driver of the truck, while both the fire and police departments were notified. They responded quickly with men, trucks and the city ambulance. Arriving at the scene Deputy Chief Leverich and his squad of men, consisting of Fred LaTour and William McElrath, of the Central Station, and Clarence Malnes and John Heppner, of Wilbur, joined the shovellers, together with numerous volunteers, who were eager to help in rescuing the imprisoned man.

Working frantically, the diggers uncovered Mr. Avery's head, which was partly out of the door of the truck. As they worked the slide threatened to come down upon them but the sand was propped up by boards from the W. F. & R. boatyard nearby. Men held boards in place, risking their own safety in order to keep the sand from rolling down upon Avery.

When the sand had been removed so that Mr. Avery was out as far as his waist, it was found that his leg was caught in the truck and that more digging had to be done before he could be extricated. Finally a rope was placed around him and a strain on it with several men pulling helped to get him out of the truck's cab, which was filled with sand.

If it had not been for the sturdy top on the truck, which prevented the sand from fully pressing the victim of the slide, he probably would have been crushed to death. In the sand there are a number of large stones that added weight to the mass of dirt that held Mr. Avery prisoner.

No sooner had Mr. Avery been released than the slide continued toward the bottom of the steep embankment and rescuers had to move quickly in order to save themselves from being caught under the rush.

Dr. Meyers, who had given attention to Mr. Avery prior to his release, had him taken to his home in the city ambulance, which stood in waiting all of the time that the rescue work was in progress. Officers George Bowers and Harry Martin were in charge of the ambulance and handled the crowd at the scene of the accident to prevent spectators from hindering the workers. They were kept busy with the curiosity seekers.

Traffic on Abel street became a problem as news of the slide spread in the downtown section and numerous automobiles crowded the roadway in the vicinity of the mishap. Deputy Sheriff Harry Albright took charge of keeping the thoroughfare open.

Several residents of the Wilbur section for many years were said to have predicted the sand slide last week, and wondered why men were permitted to dig so far in at the bottom of the bank, with danger threatening every minute.

Besides the truck Mr. Avery was driving, another was partly buried in the slide. The driver, however, sensing the danger of trying to remove it let it remain in its position at the bottom of the bank.

Provenzano Verdict Sustained by Court

The Court of Appeals on Tuesday affirmed a judgment recovered in the supreme court in March of last year by Salvatore Provenzano and Frank Grimalda against Adelbert H. Chambers and Leon Chambers.

An action was brought by the plaintiffs to recover damages for personal injuries against Leon Leonard and the Chambers brothers. Leonard, while driving an automobile on the Saugerties road, ran into an automobile in which the plaintiffs were riding, near the West Shore Railroad crossing. The car driven by Leonard was registered in the name of Stuyvesant Garage, the trade name under which Adelbert H. and Leon Chambers did business as partners.

The Chambers brothers claimed they had sold the car to Leonard before the accident. Judge Loughran, who presided at the trial, ruled that registration of the automobile in the trade name of the defendants Chambers raised a presumption of their ownership, and that whether their testimony repelled this presumption was a question of fact for the jury. The jury found against the defendants Chambers, who appealed to the Appellate Division, where Judge Loughran's ruling was affirmed by a divided court. An appeal was then taken by the defendants Chambers to the state's highest court which has unanimously affirmed the ruling made at the trial.

The plaintiffs were represented by Brinnier and Elsworth, with Judge G. D. B. Hasbrouck of counsel. Frank W. Brooks represented the defendants, Chambers.

Esopus Creek Gets Another Victim

The Esopus claimed another victim Wednesday evening when Arthur Weeks, 18, only child of Mr. and Mrs. George Weeks of Stone Ridge, was drowned while in swimming with Roy Weber, a friend of about his own age.

The two boys had gone to a swimming place in the Esopus located on the Stephen Krom place near Atwood. The creek is between 15 and 20 feet deep at that point. Weber's story is that young Weeks dove off into the deep water, but on coming up could not make a landing. He says that he went in to help his friend but was unable to save him and Weeks sank to the bottom. Weber went to the Krom place for help and a boat and grappling irons were secured. Charles Hasbrouck, an expert swimmer and diver, was called and finally located the body of the boy and brought it to the shore. Attempts to revive the boy by artificial respiration were made. Gerald Bush and Ward Yerry, of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation, working until Dr. David Diamond arrived. The doctor pronounced the boy dead and the body was taken to Atwood and Coroner Humiston summoned.

It is said that neither Weeks nor his friend had much experience in swimming, the former having taken a few lessons this spring. The dead boy, who graduated from the Kingston High School in June, was popular with his companions. His father is a guard at the Nanapanoch Institution for Defective Delinquents and was on duty when he received word of the fate which had befallen his son.

Undersheriff Peeter and Deputy Albright answered a call to the sheriff's office and made an investigation of the circumstances surrounding the accident.

Bernard Weber Was Discharged

Bernard Weber, 15, of 54 Howland avenue, who was arrested Sunday morning on a charge of rape in the second degree following a complaint made to the police by a woman who said that her 13-year-old daughter had been attacked by the youth Saturday night in Forsyth Park, was discharged in police court this morning after a hearing before Judge Culliton.

The youth was represented by Attorney Frank W. Brooks while Attorney Lloyd LeFever appeared for The People. At the close of the testimony the court held there was not sufficient evidence to hold the youth for the grand jury.

Roosevelt's Power Authority Assails President Hoover

St. Lawrence Seaway Project Seen as Prominent Campaign Issue Between New York Governor and President.

Albany, N. Y., July 21 (P)—The controversy originating in New York over the St. Lawrence seaway treaty flamed up brightly today as likely to be the first major point of attack in Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt's campaign for the presidency.

In a lengthy and strongly worded communication to the Governor, the Roosevelt-appointed power authority of New York state last night took the Federal administration to task on the ground that it had been guilty of bad faith and had offended New York's "state's rights."

The power body, whose chairman is Frank P. Walsh of New York, assailed President Hoover's telegram to Mr. Roosevelt on July 19 as containing a statement which it said "cannot be reconciled with the repeated declaration of the state department" indicating that St. Lawrence treaty negotiations had only recently begun.

The power group, rejecting Mr. Roosevelt's suggestion for a conference between the New York Governor and himself to clear away New York's difficulties before the treaty was entered into, reminded Mr. Roosevelt that the St. Lawrence negotiations had been going on for "nearly three years."

The power authority told Roosevelt it wished to point out the discrepancy between the statement of the President and the official record. The authority cited a letter from acting Secretary of State William R. Castle, Jr., to Mr. Roosevelt on August 13, 1931, and a subsequent statement to the press in which Castle said "it was clear that the Governor had been misinformed" in his belief that negotiations had been in progress with Canada.

The power group also cited two joint announcements of the United States and Canadian governments, one of which, issued on October 8, 1931, said "negotiations . . . looking toward the framing of the treaty for the St. Lawrence seaway will be initiated at once."

"Excellent Letter"
The power authority's communication, which Mr. Roosevelt smilingly termed a "very excellent letter," recommended to the Governor that he cease to correspond or confer with the national administration on the St. Lawrence seaway matter.

Of the President's statement regarding the duration of negotiations, the authority wrote: "The apparent purpose of this statement was to imply that the negotiations with Canada were under way for a considerable period prior to the act of the New York legislature dated April 27, 1931, creating the power authority, as well as prior to your letter of June 11, 1931, addressed to the President."

The Governor's letter of June 11, 1931, formally advised the government that the state was ready to undertake its power development in the St. Lawrence and asked to have the state's interests safeguarded.

The power board told Mr. Roosevelt last night it believed further dealings with the administration would be "futile." The board suggested that the investigation ordered by the United States senate into the St. Lawrence treaty which was signed July 18 "will provide an opportunity for the state to secure full and just consideration of its rights and interests."

New York state is concerned over its share of the cost of the project, which includes development of the state-owned power resources. The federal government suggested $150,000,000 as the state's share. New York demurred and offered half this amount.

The president was charged in last night's communication with having failed to meet "the principal issue" in the Roosevelt message to him on July 9.

This, the power board said, was Roosevelt's contention that in international matters affecting the joint rights and interests of the United States government and one or more of its sovereign states, an understanding should be reached between the federal and state governments as a condition precedent to the conclusion of negotiations with a foreign nation.

In refusing a conference with Roosevelt, the power authority said, the president based his reply "upon the erroneous assumption" that Roosevelt was seeking to interfere in international relations.

New Dictatorship Moves Into Action Before Opposition

Franz Brachet Takes Over New Duties to Govern Prussia—Resisting Officeholders Threatened With Arrest.

Berlin, July 21 (P)—Prussia's new dictatorship moved smoothly into action today, but under the surface calm there was considerable resentment at the imposition of martial law by yesterday's presidential decree.

Franz Brachet, selected by Chancellor von Papen to govern Prussia during the period of the emergency, took over his new duties and gave the remaining Prussian ministers their choice of methods by which the federal government will remove them from office.

As a result of the obstinacy of Karl Severing, who refused to relinquish his post as Prussian minister of the interior until threatened with arrest, the entire Prussian cabinet is to be deposed and the federal government will appoint officeholders in their places.

Formal proceedings were begun today against Albert Graessner, socialist head of the Prussian police, and his two chief assistants, Bernhard Weiss and Albert Helmsberg, who were arrested yesterday after refusing to submit to a federal order displacing them. They are charged with resisting military authority.

Meantime the sentiment of the rest of the country was lined up to the supreme court against the dictatorship. Saxony declined to join. In the Essen municipal council the Social Democratic bloc refused to sanction leave of absence for Herr Brachet, who is lord mayor of Essen, on the grounds that he is indispensable to the city and cannot be spared to serve as dictator for Prussia.

Despite martial law, however, two men were killed and a number were injured in political riots last night.

John J. House Claim Before Commission

A hearing was held today before Condemnation Commissioners Stephan, Wicks and Sulter in the matter of the claim of John J. House of Esopus against the county of Ulster for lands for the construction of highway 9-W.

Mr. House was called and testified to the damages sustained by reason of the taking of a strip of land in front of this premises in the village of Esopus for the construction of the road. He testified that he had known the premises for 40 years and was familiar with the highway boundary prior to the taking. When the county took the land he testified he had been compelled to construct a new approach highway to his home which is located on an elevation overlooking the road. When the county took the land his old driveway with an "easy" grade had become unusable and he built a new road south of the old road some 200 feet distant. This new road he said had been cut through rock and presents now a steep grade and the rock cut obstructs vision as one enters upon the main state highway. The new road cost $320 and he also furnished the material for its construction. The approach to his home is on a curve on the state road and he said the steepness of the grade entering his premises causes it to wash out during heavy storms and that in winter the cut drifts with snow.

Several photographs taken before the taking of the land by the county were offered. Mr. House indicated on the pictures the lands taken for road purposes. This brought out a heated objection as to whether Mr. House was qualified to indicate on the pictures the taking line. He testified that he knew the premises for 40 years and could mark the taking line within six inches of the actual taking using certain monuments and markers as guides. He marked the pictures.

In addition he claims damages for loss of use of a lot for a building site to the north of his home. Before the taking he said this lot was accessible from the highway and now there is a bank which prohibits free access to the lot.

North of the schoolhouse a strip of land was also taken including a row of peach trees.

Along the highway in front of the house before the taking was a row of maple trees which he said were removed and the road now runs over the spot where these trees formerly stood.

Th. Hon. Charles W. Walton appears for claimant and the county appears by County Attorney Robert G. Groves.

The commission will view the property.

WOMEN PLEDGE SUPPORT IF WAR IS DECLARED

La Paz, Bolivia, July 21 (P)—Two thousand Bolivian women had pledged their lives today to the government if war is declared on Paraguay, and a troop train loaded with reinforcements from the army was on its way "to the Bolivian interior."

The troop train was sent out following reports of a battle between Bolivian and Paraguayan forces in the Gran Chaco region.

India's Boycotts Provide Problem For Trade Parley

Ottawa, Ont., July 21 (P)—The shadow of Mahatma Gandhi and the boycotts of India moved over the British Empire trade conference and its formal opening today.

During the days of conversation and published statements the stress was placed on the trade of Canada and the other dominions.

Today it began to be remarked that, whereas Canada has a population of 10,000,000, India has 300,000,000 and the Indian delegation represents two-thirds of the empire's 450,000,000 people.

But for the passive resistance of Mahatma Gandhi, now silent in Yeroda jail, and his followers, it was estimated, India would be taking millions of dollars' worth more of British goods than it now absorbs. During the last few days the delegation, with the celebrated British strategist of compromise paved the way for preliminary advance to their objective. Canada, transcending all others, moved magnanimously to discard her less important industrial enterprises in the interest of British preference.

10,000,000 Canadians. Many observers wondered, however, if that course was so essential to keep this conference from breaking up in pious expostulations as its predecessors have done. Canada has only 10,000,000 people. It was recalled to absorb its share of the output of Great Britain's 45,000,000 almost entirely industrially employed citizens.

Other dominions and crown colonies rose with assurances of willingness to give and take, but their populations, too, are in many cases small. In the quarter ending March 31, 1930, shipments from the United Kingdom to India totaled $19,175,525, normally only little less than $100,000,000. At least partially due to the boycott, this total dropped for the quarter ending March 31, 1932, to $8,489,934.

Little is heard about that at this conference where so much has been said of Canada's 10,000,000 population whittling down her $393,000,000 imports from the United States in the interest of Great Britain, which supplies only $109,900,000 of Canada's imports.

India might logically be expected to give the conference assurance of greater effort to absorb British goods, if no more than in return for British wealth invested in her development. Canada, on the other hand, has the advantage of almost $4,000,000,000 of American funds invested in her enterprises, compared with only $20,000,000 of British money. The United States took $257,000,000 worth of her exports last year compared with only $171,000,000 worth taken by the United Kingdom.

Declining Exchange. A point overlooked thus far in regard to the suggestion that Canada lean more toward British markets is the fact that declining exchange has had the effect of a number of the American Tariff schedules notably that against feeder cattle. The tariff war between Great Britain and the Irish Free State also promises to hold out to Canada the prospect of replacing Irish cattle on the British markets.

Regardless of pessimism north of the international line over the Hawley-Smoot tariff act, the decline in Canadian exchange made it possible for Canada to sell the United States practically the same number of head of feeder cattle in the first 11 months of 1930 as in the same period in 1931.

The Canadian unit of exchange is now worth more relatively than that of any other empire nation. It might well be at par with the dollar, but for the decline in the British pound and the necessity of guaranteeing Canadian securities.

Ever since the pound fell Canadianians have been buying American dollars with which to purchase British pounds for use in paying for imports from the United Kingdom. The impression here is that the United States is to blame for the decline in Canadian currency. However, the United States holds so much more of Canadian securities than the $700,000,000 held by Great Britain that if the Canadian dollar were pegged to the American the value of British-owned Canadian securities would be almost erased.

This conference is going to take up the question of inter-empire currency, probably with a view to establishing a common unit of value. If this happens, whatever medium of exchange prevailed would be worth as much in Ottawa or Sydney as in London.

Adoption of bi-metalism has been suggested as one way to do this, but such a policy probably would bring about the empire nations. While South Africa is preeminently gold-producing, Canada produces both gold and silver and India is already on a silver basis.

STILLMANS CRASH IN TWO PLANE ACCIDENTS

Chicago, July 21 (P)—Alexander Stillman, 22 year old son of the wealthy New York Stillman family, suffered slight injuries last night when the plane he was piloting crashed in a forced landing on the outskirts of Gary, Ind.

Shortly afterward his mother, Mrs. Fowler McCormick of Chicago, and her husband escaped unhurt when a plane in which they were hurrying to Alexander's side in a Gary hospital crashed over in landing at Lansdowne, Ill., airport, a few miles distant.

Calls Financing Charge "Absurd"

Washington, July 21 (P)—Republican Leader Snell has rendered a Democratic charge that the D. O. P. campaign is financed out of the federal treasury and reached this conclusion "absurd."

Thus did the Potomac, New York, Republican answer an accusation by a New York Democrat, Representative O'Connor, who saw a connection between the administration party's campaign chest and federal tax refunds.

Said Snell: "I know that any contention that the Republican administered treasury has financed Democratic campaign funds through tax refunds is absurd. But it is no more absurd than Mr. O'Connor's claim that by the same means it has financed Republican campaigns."

Furthermore, said the House Republican leader, several prominent Democrats have gotten personal tax refunds or returns to firms with which they were connected. Among these he listed:

Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, $46,569; Alfred E. Smith, $45,926; John J. Raskob, $5,000,000; Bernard M. Baruch, $6,225; John W. Davis, nearly $4,000,000; Pierre S. Dupont, $583,253.

"Of course," Snell added, "I do not believe a Republican administered treasury as wicked as Mr. O'Connor would have the country believe our treasury is, would have been so politically unwise as to take public funds to furnish sinews of war to the enemy."

Six Men Are Sent To The County Jail

Five on Disorderly Charges and One for Public Intoxication—Youth Arrested on Juvenile Delinquency Charge—One Man Held for Hearing Later.

About 3:30 o'clock this morning the police arrested five young men they found in an automobile on Mary's avenue. All five were charged with disorderly conduct in being unable to give a satisfactory account of themselves. The five were Daniel Cusher, 19, of 166 Delaware avenue; Thomas David, 20, of East Kingston; John Fisher, 20, of 194 First avenue; Fred Secreto, 23, of 384 First avenue, and James D. Brown, 23, of New York city. Brown was the owner of the car they were in.

Later in the morning the five were arraigned before Judge Culliton in police court and entered pleas of guilty and were each sentenced to five days in the county jail.

John Reilly, 50, of Niagara Falls, arrested here on a charge of public intoxication, was also sentenced to five days in jail.

Peter Cerasali, 15, of 34 Roosevelt avenue, was arrested for driving an automobile while too young to be a licensed operator in the state of New York. A charge of juvenile delinquency was lodged against the boy and he was paroled in the custody of his parents for his appearance later in children's court.

Patrick McCadden of Oswego, was arrested on complaint of Stanley Dempsey of the staff of the Hotel Ulster, who charged McCadden with attempting to defraud the hotel of his board bill. McCadden was stopping at the hotel with his wife and two small children. The hearing was adjourned to Saturday morning in police court.

Charge "Higher-Ups" Protected in Case

Mineola, N. Y., July 21 (P)—A charge that "higher-ups" were being protected echoed in Long Island's third degree killing today as the investigation reached the grand jury stage.

George J. Mulry, attorney for 12 of 13 policemen arrested yesterday as the aftermath of the beating to death of Stark, insisted some one was being made the goat to shield "higher-ups."

After hastily calling the grand jury to meet today, District Attorney Elvin N. Edwards prepared to ask indictments ranging from second degree murder down to conspiracy to obstruct justice.

Four policemen accused of slaying in what Supreme Court Justice Meier Steinbrink called a "brutal tragedy" were held on second degree murder charge by the justice yesterday. Seven were held for assault, and all 12 were charged with conspiracy.

In one of the hottest county conventions ever held by the American Legion in Ulster county, officers and delegates were elected and resolutions were passed and tabled. Although the average age of the World War veterans is 40 years, they exuded vigor, go and leathernecks proved Wednesday night that in this county, at least, they were still full of night, pep and vigor.

The officers and committees made their reports of the year's work, which showed considerable strides in Legion work in this county. County Commander Leudtke's report follows:

Another year in the life of the American Legion of Ulster county is about to close. During the year I believe our organization has accomplished much that is worthwhile to our comrades and our community and has again demonstrated its right to the confidence not only of all veterans of the World War but the people of Ulster county besides.

County meetings during the year were well attended. Ten meetings were held during the year as follows: Highland, New Paltz, Ellenville, Phoenicia, Woodstock, Wallkill, Saugerties and Kingston (3). We were fortunate to have as guest speakers during the year at county meetings the following distinguished Legionnaires and citizens: Past National Commander E. E. Spafford, Past National Vice Commander Healey, Past Department Commander and Attorney General J. J. Bennett, Jr., Department Commander Moses C. Hubbard, Jr., State Senator Arthur H. Wicks and Max Schmelling.

The fine spirit of comradeship, good-fellowship and of mutual helpfulness is in no place better exemplified than at county meetings of the American Legion of Ulster county. I wish to thank all those whose attendance, in all kinds of weather, and coming over all kinds of roads in all seasons of the year, made our meetings such outstanding successes. I also thank the Auxiliary units of the various posts for the plentiful and delicious supply of refreshments at each meeting and the posts for providing such good music and entertainment.

While we did not this year reach our full quota, we accomplished much. Our membership at this date stands tonight at 926. This was accomplished by the loyal support of many of the posts in the county. In face of decreased incomes for most of us and no incomes for some of us, several posts of the county rolled up the largest membership in their histories, demonstrating the fine spirit of leadership and enthusiasm in these posts. Membership will always be of paramount importance in the American Legion. Let us continue our job of selling the American Legion to every eligible World War veteran. What we do benefits all of them. Let them do their share and join the Legion.

Each post this year has carried an extra burden of welfare work. The welfare and service officers of the posts have helped out the comrade temporarily out-of-luck, hundreds of claims have been made out and filed, our quartz-mercury ultra-violet ray health lamp has been in use by a tubercular comrade, and we have obtained hospitalization for several of our comrades who ordinarily would still be on the waiting list on account of the lack of hospital beds in this department.

The county Legion and Auxiliary, headed by Kingston Post Drum Corps, made its annual visit to our disabled buddies at Castle Point Hospital last September. While we did not take as much as in former years in material gifts, our feeling of sympathy and friendship was communicated to the patients and we hope did them a little good.

We are indebted to Senator Arthur H. Wicks for the free use of a large bus for this trip.

Each post in the county held appropriate memorial day services and decorated all graves of World War veterans in the county. Some of the county posts, as usual, decorated the graves of Civil War and Spanish-American war veterans. County memorial services were held in the church of our chaplain at Mt. Marion and was a service well-worth traveling miles to hear.

Junior League Graceland.
We owe a debt of gratitude to Athletic Officer Ed Burhans. He has done a good job in athletics. Three teams played for the county championship, with Kingston finally the victor. The play off with Columbia county for the 3rd district championship is now under way.

Uniforms were this year purchased for the boys from the county treasury, using the money in the treasury obtained through the door raffle. This

WEST SHOKAN ARTIST PAINTS A MASTERPIECE

West Shokan, July 21.—Our local artist, Bernard Amelia Dwyer, has recently completed a true masterpiece of art, a sign for the "Pine View Cottage." The proprietors, Mr. and Mrs. William Beemer, of Broadhead, feel assured that their new sign will bring results for it is the only one of its kind in the locality. Artist Dwyer has painted on this billboard a picture of the Beemer cottage, surrounded by numerous pine trees, which quickly attract attention of tourists. Mr. Dwyer's prices are reasonable and his work is excellent, so there isn't a doubt that he will be well supplied with work throughout the summer months.

The Whole Trend is toward a Milder Cigarette

Do you remember the days when you first started to smoke?

ALL CIGARETTES tasted somewhat alike to you, but after a while you noticed that some cigarettes were decidedly stronger than others... Remember?

As smokers become more experienced, they demand milder cigarettes. Chesterfields are milder. There is no argument about that. Their mildness is a feature as distinctive as their package or their trade mark.

Their tobaccos are mild to begin with. Patient aging and curing make them milder still.

Chesterfields contain just the right amount of Turkish—but not too much—carefully blended and cross-blended with ripe, sweet Domestic tobaccos.

In this nerve-racking time, smokers—men and women—are showing a decided preference for milder cigarettes.

Chesterfields are milder. They taste better. That's why "They Satisfy."

They're Milder—They Taste Better

COCKEY DAIRY COMMITTEE HOLDS IMPORTANT MEETING

On Thursday evening twenty of the leading dairymen in Ulster county assembled at the court house in Kingston to make plans to complete the State Emergency Dairy Committee program in the county. Early in the meeting it was reported that Arnold Peterson, Edgar McCord and Mr. Powell recently lost their market for milk at the Sheffield Farms Company plant at Phinney's Crossing because they were interested in cooperating with their fellow dairymen to improve the market for dairy products. The Dairymen's League accommodated all three by taking their milk the following day. Thus the benefit of cooperation was definitely established. A total of seven dairymen have now been selected from the Sheffield plant in Ulster county. This method of intimidation is causing many dairymen to swing over to the plan of having one big farmer controlled milk marketing organization.

Robert W. Eno of Honesdale, Pa., who is the field man for the State Emergency committee had charge of the meeting. He pointed out that rapid progress is being made in getting dairymen to sign provisional contracts. He explained that these contracts were merely a ballot by which every dairy could vote whether or not he was for cooperation. If 75% of those who are not at present in the Dairymen's League sign, thereby casting an affirmative vote, the plan becomes effective. Mr. Eno pointed out that many dairymen had the wrong impression as to the plan. In visiting several dairymen they supposed that the milk plant to which they are now delivering would be closed if the plan succeeds. This is not the case. Every dairymen would continue to deliver milk to the same plant he is now, with the same regulations. The only difference would be the owner of the plant would buy the milk from the producers' organization, rather than each individual farmer.

The discussion brought out that about 50 per cent of the dairymen delivering to the Sheffield plant at Phinney's Crossing and about 50 per cent of the Muller Dairies plant at Kerhonkson had already voted in favor of cooperating by signing the provisional contract.

The meeting was then divided into three groups and committees were chosen to canvass the remaining patrons of the three plants and secure their signatures on the provisional contracts.

The closing date has been set for August 20. If the necessary number of contracts have not been secured by that time the plan will not go over.

The committee plans to have another meeting on Monday night, August 1, to discuss the progress made to that date.

Mayan Arithmetic

The manner in which the arithmetic system and dating of the ancient Maya of Mexico was discovered by a German is decidedly the greatest triumph of archeology within recent years. A dot stood for 1 and a bar or line for 5. By various combinations of these the Maya expressed all the numerals from 1 to 12, inclusive. Twenty was denoted by the moon, as indicating the number of days in which the moon waxes and wanes.

Cultivate Cheerfulness

Cheerfulness in trouble is the soundest part of human discipline. Some variable beings have it naturally. The rest of us are apt to fall short in spite of ourselves, when fate or fortune strikes the hardest; or, again when life seems not so much "one d-d thing after another" as "every d-d thing at once." For most people, quite indomitable cheerfulness is a quality that requires daily thought and practice, but, given these, we can do wonders with ourselves.—J. L. Garvin in the London Observer.

New Commander Served in France

Robert F. Browning, the newly named county commander of the American Legion, had an interesting experience during the World War. Commander Browning was born in Pleasanton, Texas, in 1892, and graduated from the New Jersey Military Academy in Freehold, N. J., in 1911. He enlisted as soon as war was declared, early in 1917, and on June 1, due to his military experience, having served in the Third New Jersey National Guard, he was sent to officers' training camp at Fort Myers, Fla. He was later commissioned a Second Lieutenant of Infantry and assigned to the 15th Infantry, 86th Division. He sailed with the division for France in May, 1918. His division was brigaded with the English in the Samur and Bonneville area, north of Albert. On October 1, while Browning's company was taking part in the battle of the Argonne, he was shot in the arm and leg and as soon as stretcher bearers could handle him, he was taken to Evacuation Hospital No. 8, and was later evacuated to Base Hospital No. 15, St. Allery. A valiant attempt was made by the hospital staff to save his arm, but amputation finally became necessary on December 13. He was discharged on February 15, 1919, from the army hospital at Camp N. J., minus his arm but with his leg entirely healed.

Commander Browning has always been an enthusiastic member of the American Legion. He has been a member of Kingston Post, Saugerties Post and Woodstock Post, having helped to organize the latter Post several years ago. During the past year he has been membership chairman of Woodstock Post, and the membership jumped from 37 in 1931 to 72 in 1932. Mr. Browning disclaims any credit for the increase, saying the officers and members of Woodstock Post deserve the credit, but no doubt he had something to do with it. Woodstock Post is one of the most active posts in Ulster county.

Commander Browning is the first battle casualty to hold the office of county commander of Ulster county. He is energetic and well liked among the ex-soldiers, and under his administration the Legion is looking for a big year in Legion affairs in this county during the coming year. Mr. Browning, together with Mrs. Browning, reside at West Hurley, on the Woodstock road, where they have for some years successfully conducted the Tokalon Kennels.

Things To Be Thankful For.

—small profits or least mean small losses
—that our wives believe we work hard
—people who think we are clever.
—our own opinion of ourselves.
—the other fellow's mistakes.
—the clock Monday night.
—the still, clear "possibility."
—that night we have left.
—looper skirts.
—next summer.
—false teeth.
—sleep.

Judge: This lady says that you tried to speak to her at the station. Salesman—It was a mistake. I was looking for my friend's sister, whom I had never seen before, but who's been described to me as a very handsome blonde with classic features, fine complexion, perfect figure, beautifully dressed, and— Witness (interrupting)—I don't care to prosecute the gentleman. Anyone might have made the same mistake.

The valiant knight had rescued her. The perils of a horrid death had not frustrated him. And now he held her firmly in his arms, while the color of her golden locks faded into perfect harmony of the sun peering through the wooded forest. She (terrified)—You're not going to hold me for ransom. The knight (glaring at his charming captive)—I should say not. I hold no girls for ransom. Let Ransom get his own women.

Oral Broadside: One marriage in every six results in divorce, the other five fighting it out to the bitter end. . . . Lots of firms have coffee and dresses on their letterheads that never get any. . . . Before marriage man yearns for women—after marriage, the "y" is silent. . . . The depression is like a postage stamp. It has to be licked if it is going to be sent away. . . . Statistics reveal that wives get 65 per cent of the divorces and 100 per cent of the alimony. . . . A period may only be a dot, but it is the best thing to use in the end. . . . Among the first and most complete victims of hard times are soft jobs.

Then there is the case of the show that was so bad that after ten minutes a man came out and asked the lady at the box-office if she could not change his seat to one behind the pillar.

Waggish Diner (with menu)—Chicken croquettes, eh? I say, waiter, what part of the chicken is the croquette?

Waiter—That part that's left over from the day before, sir.

The Wife—I can't understand what you bid no trump on when I have four aces and three kings. The Hubby—Well, if you want to know, I bid it on one jack with two queens and three cocktails.

The vows of a candidate for a woman's heart should be taken about as seriously as a politician's campaign pledges.

Neighbor (to Mrs. Smith)—I suppose you find your daughter very much improved by the two years she spent in college.

Mrs. Smith—Oh, yes. Mary is a carnivorous reader now, and she frequently impoverishes music. But she ain't a bit stuck up. She's unanimous to everybody and she never keeps a caller waiting for her to dress. She just runs in, nom de plume, and you know what makes one feel so comfortable.

A little girl said to her playmate: "When I was born I was so surprised I couldn't talk for a whole year and a half."

Lawyer—It would be better if you could prove an alibi. Did anybody see you at the time of the crime? Client—Fortunately, no.

A lot of good women are old maids because they never get beyond the window shopping stage in looking for a husband.

People waste too much time trying to obtain things for which they have no use.

GAS BUGGIES—The Crops Hanger.

AMELIA NAMED IT THE ESSEX TERRAPLANE

Detroit, Mich., July 21.—While thousands of Detroiters looked on and applauded, Amelia Earhart Putnam, first woman to fly the Atlantic alone, today christened a new kind and type of automobile, the first to incorporate principles of airplane construction. The new car was an Essex Terraplane, announced today by the Hudson Motor Car Company to sell in the very lowest price class.

Named the Terraplane because of its airplane engineering features, the said by its sponsors to be the achievement of a goal long sought by automobile engineers in the power to weight ratio.

William J. McAnaney, president of Hudson Motor Car Company, in announcing his company's entrance into the very lowest price field, stated that prices of the eleven models now being manufactured will be announced within a few days.

Governor Wilbur M. Bruchner of Michigan, Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit and leading manufacturers in the automobile industry watched Miss Earhart smash a bottle of airplane gasoline over the radiator of the new quantity production car and heard her say "I christen thee Terraplane."

Immediately following the christening Hudson-Essex distributors and dealers from all sections of the United States started the biggest drive-away parade of new automobiles ever staged. More than two thousand drivers and cars participated. If placed end to end these cars would have formed a single line more than six miles long. Dealers drove the demonstration cars to their home cities, some of them driving in caravans hundreds of miles to such distant points as Salt Lake City, San Antonio, Boston and New York. The Terraplane christened at today's ceremonies was car No. 1, of the production line and in a few days it will be formally presented to Orville Wright of Dayton, Ohio, inventor of the airplane. Mr. Wright previously previewed the new car two weeks ago in Detroit.

Avocado Taste Grows. Sacramento (P)—Within a few years the avocado industry has jumped from a production of less than 500,000 pounds of the salad fruit to an estimated crop of 4,000,000 pounds for 1932.

Water Costs Cut. Santa Barbara, Cal. (P)—The city council has ordered a reduction of approximately 50 per cent in the water rates for Santa Barbara during the summer.

Secret of Poetry No man ever thinks a poem out; he only feels it out.—Edwin Markham.

BLIND SINGER MEMORIZES NEARLY THOUSAND SONGS

San Francisco (P)—The handicap of blindness which almost invariably sharpens other faculties has enabled Pearl Byrd, a San Francisco girl to memorize over 200 radio programs.

An accompanist and soprano for six blind singers she committed to memory not only her own parts but also those of other singers. The group has been on the air four years and Miss Byrd's memorized compositions now total nearly a thousand.

STALE GASOLINE MAY
GIVE YOU ONLY 50¢
WORTH OF POWER

as gas gets staler—gas gets weaker

Do you know what happens when gas gets stale? It loses power! As staleness increases, the more volatile parts of gas evaporate. A chemical change takes place when gas is stored. And power decreases! Stale gas is feeble gas. Gives you a slower start. Sluggish pick-up. It is more apt to foul valves and carburetor—because stale gas becomes stickier as it grows older. Stale gas knocks more, too—particularly on hills.

The whole petroleum industry has long known these facts. And for the past several years, Gulf has been developing a system that assures you of getting FRESH gasoline! How? . . .

First, by giving you the best gasoline that can be made—by so refining this gas that the elements that cause rapid deterioration of gasoline are eliminated. Hence, Gulf gas stays FRESH longer.

Second, by taking this FRESH-MADE, PEAK-POWERED gas and rushing it to you in a hurry.

From the moment it is made, Gulf gas never gets a chance to get stale. The whole Gulf organization has been geared up to high speed. Huge Gulf refineries have been placed in many sections of the country—so that a stream of FRESH-MADE gas can be kept flowing into every one of the 45,000 Gulf filling stations. A vast fleet of fast trucks speeds FRESH gas to Gulf stations every day in the year! . . . Get FRESH gas—packed with power. Get Gulf. Use it exclusively. Your motor will be cleaner. Quieter. Faster.

FASHIONS by ELEANOR GUNN

A Style Message from a French Beach

Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild

The choice of gray flannel for the pajama outfit on the standing figure is interesting. A waistlength jacket is mounted on a waistband; the belted trousers are seamed with a much detail as the little jacket. The latter is posed over a sleeveless jumper of white mesh fabric.

Diagonal jersey is employed for the second costume, with trousers of brown and jacket of bright red. It is completed by a blouse of ribbed white jersey. The belt, of heavy knotted cord, works out the two colors, and is fastened with covered buttons.

Fashion in Present and Future Tense

New York—Women who have husbands had better lose no time in training them in the technique of buttoning them up the back. So many dresses have back buttons, and so many of them actually do button, that things look dark for husbands and desperate for those women who have heretofore rejoiced in living lone and carefree lives. The old problem of getting in and out of one's clothes is coming up again, and no amount of electroneering can possibly alter the fact that buttoned models are winning by a large majority over the slip-on type of dress.

There are capes that one slips into head first, but the newest and smartest button at the back, copy cats that they are! Dresses did it first.

In reviewing some imports just arrived from Paris milliners, one feels impelled to mention that the old war still rages between velvets and felts. There seems to be no downing felts. Which reminds me to say that boot-makers have discovered the possibilities of felt for smart footwear and have done all manner of clever things with it, besides the obvious one of combining it with leather. To return to hats, however, there are not only felts in plenty but velvets also, a new type being called frappe.

It would also appear that any shade from palest American beauty to deepest wine is the season's choice for hats. In one representative collection, there were bicornees, tricornees, and square mushroom effects. You have noticed, of course, how much higher hats now sit on the head, so that the back of the head is exposed in many cases. The movement seems to be forward, covering the forehead, which is a change, you will admit.

Prints are at the forefront of fashions worn in and around New York. Not only are crepe prints seen but introduces the bertha that fastens at semi-sheer crepe grounds are observed frequently and printed sheers are also seen. One-color patterns in confused all-over medium sizes are in metal facets. The shoulder straps of strongest favor, and it is interesting to note that this is also true in Paris.

GREEN TOUCHED WITH BLACK

Copyright, 1932, by Fairchild

On a frock of very light silk lace posed over vivid green satin, Lanvin introduced the bertha that fastens at back, in characteristic fashion, and served frequently and printed sheers are also seen. One-color patterns in confused all-over medium sizes are in metal facets. The shoulder straps of strongest favor, and it is interesting to note that this is also true in Paris.

DID YOU KNOW THAT—

Among the advance notes in shoe fashions for fall are: All sorts of black combinations. The two-surface idea, as represented in black shoes, ranges from kid-with-patent or lizard-with-patent unions to dull woolly black fabrics with lizard or kid.

Chick's Shin Bone Used to Test Cod Liver Oil Potency

St. Paul (AP)—Shin bones of baby chicks have been added to the list of aids to science at the University of Minnesota farm school.

The vitamin D content of cod liver oils now can be ascertained, say H. A. Halvorson and L. L. Lachar, chemists, through examination of the chicks' shin bones, or tibiae. Groups of day-old chicks are fed mixed diets, including the cod liver oil in varying amounts, for five days. The birds then are killed and the lower left leg bone of each is removed, dried, and crushed.

After being treated with alcohol and ether, the crushed bone is "ashed" in an electric furnace. The percentage of ash in the bone indicates the amount of calcium or lime deposited. Vitamin D exists in the depositing of this substance.

A large percentage of ash indicates a strong shin bone and an oil rich in Vitamin D content.

EXPOSITION TUBE LIGHTING INSTALLATION SETS RECORD

Chicago (AP)—One of the scores of "superlatives" promised for Chicago's 1933 "Century of Progress" exposition is already on display and "working."

It is the gaseous tube illumination in the Hall of Science—said to be the most extensive use of illuminating system on one building in the world.

On the tower of the hall alone there are 2,700 feet of tubing, on the pylons there are 1,250 feet, and inside the great hall 750 feet.

Lost Ugly Fat
Her Husband Says She Looks Five Years Younger!

There is a certain weight at which every woman looks her best—not too thin, not too fat, but normal weight. We find artists, doctors, theatrical producers (and husbands!) all agreed upon this point. "My husband says I look five years younger," writes this lady of 29 who—thanks to her daily dose of Kruschen Salts—has unburdened her body of 18 pounds of ugly fat. Read her letter:

"Having heard from a friend of mine that she had considerably lost weight taking Kruschen Salts, I started using them in July last when I weighed 177 lbs. I have lost weight steadily since then, and am now 158 lbs.—my normal weight. Moreover, I feel brighter and more energetic in every way."

I have inquired of my dressmaker my measurements which in August last were: Bust 40, hips 42½, waist 32½, inches which is normal for my height, which is 5 ft. 8 in. My age is 29. My husband is a very severe critic. He says I look five years younger. There is no other reason for my loss of weight except Kruschen, as I do not take any particular diet."

(Mrs.) S. H., London, England.

A bottle of Kruschen Salts that will last four weeks costs but a trifle—take as directed every morning. When the jar is empty get on the water and lose many pounds you have lost. Attention to diet will help—cut down on pastry and fatty meats—go light on potatoes, butter, cream and sugar.

Remember this: to take off fat harmlessly and SAFELY be sure for your health's sake that you ask for and get Kruschen Salts. Get them at McEldridge Drug Stores or any drug store in the world and if the results one bottle brings do not delight you—do not feel sorry for you—why money back.

China Discussed Before Rotary Club

China a land of mystery and mystery when viewed in the eyes of the western world was described to the members of the Kingston Rotary Club yesterday evening by H. E. Dexter, assistant general commercial manager of the Central Union Gas and Electric Corporation. Mr. Dexter, whose knowledge of China and her people comes from several years residence in that country, spoke with an understanding that gave his listeners clear and gratifying word picture of this great eastern nation.

William Raible, a guest at the meeting, sang two songs that were enjoyed by the members following the luncheon. The songs offered by Mr. Raible were "The Bell of St. Mary's," and "Silver Stay away from My Door."

A. P. Modjeska was then introduced as a new member of the club.

John Meahan, in charge of the day's program was called upon by President Joseph Morgan to introduce the speaker on the program.

In beginning his talk, Mr. Dexter stated that China was much in the public mind at the present time due to the recent difficulties regarding Manchuria and the recent boycott of Japanese goods.

The speaker then gave a geographical description of China, explaining that the country is about half as large as the United States, with a population nearly three times as great. The northern part of China, Mongolia, is desert country. The land is yellow and arid, and the rivers and streams in this part of the country are colored yellow by the rains that bring the yellow soil into the rivers. Because of the poor soil, tribes in Mongolia began to work southward about the year 300 B. C., and by 221 B. C. these tribesmen were banded together through the efforts of a strong chieftain, and that was the beginning of China. This chieftain, realizing that the greatest danger of invasion came from the strong tribes in the north, had the great wall built to protect his peoples. From then on China began to develop into a nation. She became interested in art and literature, and instead of employing a progressive spirit of conquest, the nation closed her doors to the outside world. Her borders remained unchanged, and although she was conquered several times by other nations, she absorbed her conquerors, and is the same today as she was thousands of years ago, stated Mr. Dexter.

Continuing, the speaker explained that China's lack of progressiveness was apparent the moment a traveler entered the country. The system of transportation is inadequate, and is one of the reasons that China is so politically divided. One good feature is the postal system which is under the control of Britain, and that functions as effectively as our own. The method of sewage disposal is of the crudest, continued Mr. Dexter. Each morning bucket brigades in the principal cities carry the sewage out of town. These are only a few of the many disadvantages that China is undergoing today.

The speaker also stated that many Chinese have migrated to Manchuria during the past years because of the dense population in southern China. Japan on the other hand relies on Manchuria for food. This has been one of the sore spots in Chinese-Japanese relations.

Mr. Dexter continued his address by saying that the men of China are successful in business, but most of their business ventures are not in China because of the unsettled political conditions facing the country. In the estimation of the speaker, what China needs today is a strong man, a dictator who can unify this great country and make the government more centralized. As China is today, she is a nation divided into numerous little units, all with different ideals and different dialects. Until the people of China can join in a common interest, the country will remain as it is today, concluded the speaker.

President Morgan thanked Mr. Dexter for his thoroughly enjoyable address, and the meeting was then adjourned.

Flashes of Life Sketched in Brief

(By The Associated Press.)

Beaver, Ill.—Eighteen years ago Joseph Douglas, negro, was sent to the penitentiary to serve 1 to 14 years for manslaughter—and he is still there. Attorney Ray T. Hendricks, declaring authorities apparently forgot about Douglas, will petition for release of the "forgotten man."

Oswego, N. Y.—A big crowd came to see a ball game here Sunday but one more than a big crowd left, and that is what's worrying Sing Sing prison officials. Anthony De Bernardo, serving 15 years, mingled with the crowd which saw the prison nine perform and oared right out an exit.

Pine Bluff, Ark.—The thief who robbed C. E. Lee's henroost is welcome to come again—if he'll repeat the performance. Lee found two 50-cent pullets missing. On the floor lay a $10 bill the robber had dropped.

Chicago—Lawyers can be speed demons with impunity if they are en route to or from court. Accused of cracking the speed laws, Attorney S. L. August dug up a mellow statute saying lawyers are immune from arrest while going to and from court. He won the argument.

Bloomington, Pa.—To be eligible for unemployment relief here, automobile owners must deposit their car keys and license cards with the poor board, save a new ruling. Persons with telephones will not get poor board orders.

GARDINER.

Gardiner, July 21.—Miss Kathleen Moran has returned home after spending a few weeks in New York city.

Mrs. Walter Stafford and children of Laurel, Delaware, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Alford.

Royal "Presentations"

Evelyn Byrd, the daughter of William Byrd, was the first American girl presented to the court of St. James. In those days, as in these, presentation to the court of St. James always marked the peak of one's attainment in the social world. This is the fundamental motive for wishing to be presented.

No More Piles

How to End Terrible Agony Without Salves or Cutting.

Thousands of Pile sufferers do not know that the cause of Piles is internal—bad circulation of blood in the lower bowel.

That is the scientific truth about Piles—the real reason why salves and suppositories do not give permanent relief, why cutting does not remove the cause.

Your itching, bleeding or protruding Piles will only go when you actually remove the cause—and not one medicine can do this.

External treatments should be used as internal medicine should be used.

HEM-ROID, the prescription of Dr. J. S. Leachman, succeeds because it stimulates the circulation, drives out congested blood, heals and restores the almost dead parts.

HEM-ROID tablets have an almost unbelievable record of success. So why waste time on external remedies or worry about an operation when HEM-ROID (Piles Stores and druggists everywhere) invite every sufferer to try HEM-ROID with guarantee of money-back if it does not end their Piles, no matter how stubborn the case?

Roller Skating

Wheeled skates were used on the roads of Holland as far back as the Eighteenth century, but it was the invention of the four-wheeled skate, working on rubber pads, by J. L. Plimpton of New York, in 1820, that made the amusement popular. Still greater advance was made by the Raymond skate with ball and cone bearings.

Kingston Dealer In On Huge Drive-away

Kingston and Ulster county will be represented in the gigantic drive-away which takes place at the Hudson-Essex factory in Detroit today when 2,000 new Essex cars will be started to all sections of the country in one of the biggest drive-aways ever to leave Detroit. Those who will take part in the drive-away from this locality are Peter A. Black, Kingston Hudson-Essex dealer; A. S. Weeks, Modena Hudson-Essex dealer; P. M. Mott, Esopus dealer and Ross Snyder, Saugerties dealer. The four dealers left Kingston Wednesday night for Detroit and each will drive back one of the new Essex models which were announced today. Following the christening of Essex car No. 1, by Mrs. Amelia Earhart, this car will be presented to Orville Wright, inventor of the first practical airplane. The new Essex incorporates many airplane features in its construction and will sell at a price comparable with the lowest priced car today on the market. A parade of the 2,000 car drive-away will take place in Detroit after which the huge drive-away will divide and cars will be driven to all sections of the country. Mr. Black expects to arrive in Kingston with the new car on Saturday.

Fundamental Chemical Law
The periodic law of chemistry was derived by Mendeleev. It states that the properties of the elements, as well as the forms and properties of their compounds, are in periodic dependence on or form a periodic function of the atomic weights of the elements. This law enabled Mendeleev to forecast the existence and even the properties of several unknown elements since discovered.

Measuring the Reading Ability

THE device shown above, recently installed at the University of Illinois, measures one's reading ability, and has provided information causing Dean Judd of the graduate school to say that the teaching of reading should not stop at the early grades. As the subject reads the printed page before her, the movements of her eyes are automatically photographed. The camera records where the eye lingers and where it sweeps on. According to M. J. Julian, director of the Better Vision Institute, New York city, educators have failed to grasp the importance of rapid silent reading, and he points out that college students, from the standpoint of speed, are not much better readers than are grade students.

KELVINATOR REMEMBERS

—even if you forget

IF IT ISN'T A
KELVINATOR—
IT ISN'T FULLY AUTOMATIC

ONE of the great advantages of owning a Kelvinator is its fully automatic operation—a feature possessed by no other electric refrigerator. With these modern electric refrigerators there are no dials to turn and, literally, not a thing to be remembered by the housewife.

The big food compartment has a temperature that is always below 50°, but never below freezing. Therefore, it is impossible to freeze eggs, lettuce, fruits or other perishable foods.

The Frost Chest is always below freezing and provides ideal storage for frozen foods, meats, game or extra ice cubes.

The freezing trays provide exceptionally fast freezing for an unusually liberal quantity of ice cubes.

World's Record Fast Freezing

The Iso-Thermic Tube compartment gives World's Record Fast Freezing, nearly two hours faster than ordinary freezing speed. Here you can freeze desserts or ice cubes in a hurry.

Come in and let us explain Kelvinator's fully automatic operation and show you how it saves you time, prevents food losses and saves current because of its scientific efficiency. Learn about Kelvinator's many other exclusive features—the seventeen models to choose from—at the lowest prices in Kelvinator history and the most liberal ReDisCo terms.

SEACOAST FOR MIDWEST IS TREATY GOAL

Ocean Ships' Entry To Lakes Likely To Slash Grain Rates

New York (AP).—The vast middle between Lake Ontario and Montreal is reaching toward the sea. A deep channel for ocean-going ships will cost close to $300,000,000, it is estimated. The most difficult problem will be a six-mile canal with two locks on the American side around Barnhart Island. The one other section to be opened is the three-mile Lachine canal, just west of Montreal. This project, to be undertaken by Canada, can be completed easily by the time the international section is finished. From time to time other links have been forged in the chain of lakes, rivers and canals.

Welland Canal Opened
The most important was opened this year with the completion by the Canadian government of the new Welland canal at a cost of $100,000,000.

New York Claims Power
New York wants, and claims title to the power, but whether she will get some $150,000,000 as her share of the development expense remains to be seen.

Governor Roosevelt, democratic presidential nominee, asked recently for a conference with President Hoover on the power question, but he declined. The governor has insisted the power must belong publicly to the state, not to private developers.

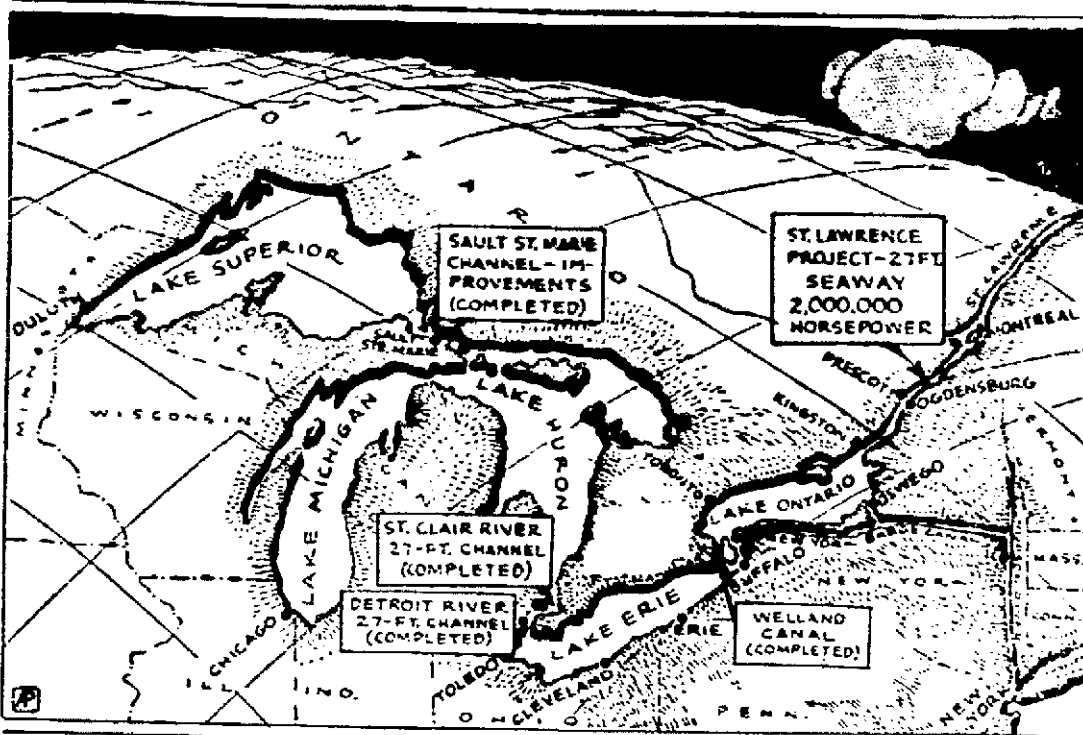

Contrary to popular belief, the Great Lakes-St. Lawrence waterway is no longer a vast project requiring billions of dollars for realization, and 30 feet deep, is capable of handling 95 per cent of the ocean cargo.

Here, encountering the Niagara escarpment, a drop of 326 feet is for years gigantic dredges have been at work at widely scattered points.

Last Link in 46-Mile Strip
Today the last important link to be forged is the 46-mile "international rapids" section of the river made in a little over 25 miles. Seven locks, each with a lift of 46 feet, out-rivaling even the gigantic Panama canal locks, were built.

One of the seven, at Humberstone, is the longest in the world—1,380 feet. The channel, 310 feet wide and 30 feet deep, is capable of handling 95 per cent of the ocean cargo.

Bringing The Ocean To The Wheat Fields

Map shows the various projects, completed and in prospect, which will make every port on the great Lakes a seaport if the treaty recently signed with Canada is ratified and carried out. This treaty provides for the joint completion of the St. Lawrence project, permitting ocean ships to enter the lakes, and developing more than 2,000,000 horsepower at the two dams.

St. Louis, between Ogdensburg, N. Y., and Montreal. This canal, 14 miles long, is nearing completion. Isles Section Nearly Done
A 27-foot channel through the fore. This is a 67-mile stretch.

Power "Sideline" Will Benefit New York

Meanwhile huge dredges are at work in harbors and channels of the Great Lakes. Last year Congress appropriated almost $50,000,000 to deepen these channels from 20 to 27 feet.

Altogether the various developments indicate that within four to eight years ocean freighters will be docking at Great Lakes ports.

Some of the largest cities in the country, including Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland and Toledo, will be reached by the waterway. Duluth ranks second only to New York as a port in point of tonnage.

The net value of Great Lakes shipping reached a total of $2,496,000,000 in 1928, the banner year, or 258,000,000 cargo tons in 1929.

Huge Tonnage Foreseen
President Hoover, when secretary of commerce, caused a survey of canal possibilities to be made in 1926. The lowest estimate was that 20,000,000 tons would be carried through the canal the year it is opened.

It is estimated that wheat could be carried from Duluth to Liverpool from 8 to 10 cents cheaper on the bushel via the waterway.

Middle western ports, teeming with commerce and seeking shorthanded and cheaper transportation, have pressed the waterway plan with more vigor as the result of the shipment of wheat this season from Alberta and Saskatchewan by way of the New Hudson bay route.

PORT EWEEN.

Warren Howe of Union Hill, N. J., spent Wednesday with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howe. A. R. Atkins and H. Williams of Kingston have just returned from a fishing trip to Canada. While there they caught 22 black bass and 21 pike, two of which weighed 15 pounds each. Mr. Atkins presented his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Atkins, with one of the bass and Saturday he and his wife and parents enjoyed a fish dinner.

Their practice will be held in the Methodist Church at 7.15 this evening.

English Language a Mixture

The English language is closely allied to the language of the ancient Teutonic tribes. Historically, it is divided into three periods, the Anglo-Saxon, from 449 to 1100; the middle English, 1100 to 1500, and modern English, from 1500 to the present day. Various attempts have been made at different times to classify the source of English words. According to French, 60 per cent are Saxon, 30 per cent Latin, including those derived through the French; 5 per cent Greek, 5 per cent other sources.

Triangle Club Met at Camp

The Kingston Triangle Club held a most enjoyable and splendidly attended meeting at the Y. W. C. A. Boys' Camp at Lake Glenora Tuesday evening at the home of Nelson Miller, Mrs. Miller's secretary.

After the usual business session prepared by Mrs. Miller the fellows enjoyed a sing all the popular songs and under the leadership of General Secretary Clarence Schumann with Dan Ratter at the piano. Dick Warren introduced as his guest his brother, Fred Warren Smith introduced as his guest his father and Clarence Schumann introduced Mr. Miller, member of the camp staff.

Clarence Wolters spoke briefly on the "Water-Kent" Audition to be held in St. John's Church on August 19. Anyone between the ages of 18 and 25 is eligible.

After the meeting the fellows enjoyed playing baseball with the youngsters, pitching horse shoes, fishing, boating and the many other activities of camp life and enjoyed a most pleasant evening by gathering around the camp fire and enjoying the program prepared for the boys.

The club will not hold another meeting until some time in August when according to the plans of the committee working on it will be something out of the ordinary and will undoubtedly be held at the camp at Lake Glenora.

TOM MARSH INJURED WHEN OLD BARN COLLAPSED

Tom Marsh, one of the actors associated with George Frame Brown of "Uncle Matt of Tompkins Corner" radio fame, was severely bruised about the back and also injured internally about 5 o'clock on Tuesday afternoon when an old barn on the Brown place, the former Raymond Snyder farm at Pine Grove, which he was assisting in razing, suddenly collapsed. Marsh was unable to escape from the falling timbers which struck him in the shoulders and back. After being gotten out of the pile of timber Dr. R. F. Diehlman was called and he gave Marsh the necessary surgical attention.

LIFE IS A FIRE

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

LIFE is a fire, and memory the embers. It is the joy or pain that one remembers. A little while the fire flames and fades; It shall be long before it is ashen. We would not care if care would soon be over; Alas, the world has many a weary rover. Within whose heart, if going or returning, Some ancient hurt keeps on forever burning.

Yet love was ours, and home, and happy faces. Yes, joy was ours in other times and places. Love quickly flames, and nothing fades so brightly. Or fades so soon, if love has loved too lightly. We can't forget that some old vow was broken— Let us recall at least the vow was spoken. The hand of time is time the heart would soften— Perhaps we stir the fires of hate too often.

Life is a fire, and memory the embers. If it be joy or pain that one remembers. If it be pain, then leave the past to perish. If it be joy, rekindle and cherish. Life is a fire, and mortals must rebuild it. Not with the pain but with the joy that filled it. The coals of hate are not the coals for blowing. But keep your hope, your faith, forever glowing. (© 1932, Douglas Malloch.)—WNU Service.

Mixed Blood in Ireland
In the population of Ireland, three major types are usually recognized. The most primitive is the short, black-haired type, sometimes called Firbolg, variously defined by anthropologists as non-Aryan or Iberian or a branch of the Mediterranean race. The conquerors of these peoples were a tall and blond race known as Tuatha de Danann, who were either Scandinavian or Celtic-speaking peoples. They were followed by the Gaelic invasion probably within historic times. This Celtic-speaking race is identified with the predominant type of Irish of the present day.—Washington Star.

Cynical Bachelor
That famous wit, letter writer and confirmed bachelor, Horace Walpole, held views on matrimony and especially on love matches, which would do credit to the most cynical modern iconoclast. Stephen Gwynn, in his "Life of Horace Walpole," quotes the following comment on the marriage of a friend: "It is bad enough to marry; but to marry where one loves, ten times worse. It is so charming at first that the decay of inclination renders it infinitely more disagreeable afterwards."

Remembered His Promise
An eastern potentate who wanted to know how many men were afraid of their wives, sent for all his married male subjects and commanded those who always obeyed their wives to stand on one side. Seeing, to his surprise, that a very small man was the only one who did not do so, he asked him why such a puny individual as himself had a mind of his own. "When I left home, your majesty," explained the man, "I promised my wife I would not go in any crowd."

GANGSTERS ABOUT TO SPROUT WINGS

New York Variety Takes Up Study of Aviation.

New York.—Gargled is sprouting wings. At Floyd Bennett and Roosevelt fields almost daily may be found individuals whose faces are familiar in the underworld haunts of the city. On the airports they are a clanish lot. Remaining close to each other and rarely exchanging a word with anyone near the hangars. Some are dapper while others are modest in their dress.

While they move about without interfering with anyone else on the fields, they are ready to act in case someone trespasses upon their privacy. Word has gone out that the newspaper man who dares to take a photograph of one of them in an airplane will be dealt with according to the unwritten code of the underworld.

Fear of having valuable cameras broken has kept most cameramen from photographing these fledglings and has kept others from releasing photographs they have obtained secretly. It is understood.

Employees Say Little.
Employees around the airports are afraid to talk about them without first weighing their words.

"Be careful what you say," said one workman at Roosevelt field when a question was asked about the gangsters learning to fly. "There's always a bunch of them inside that room and they can hear through the walls."

"They passed out the word when they came out here to fly that no pictures were to be taken, and if any are taken it will be just too bad. None of the boys out here want to be 'put on the spot.'"

Over at Floyd Bennett field the same fear exists. An employee said none of the boys there would take the chance of crossing the gangsters because they had received the same ultimatum as had been issued at Roosevelt.

The Devil to Pay.
"One of the boys here has some pictures, but he has been instructed not to release them until told he may," the mechanic said, and then added that "there sure will be the devil to pay now that the gangster story leaked out."

"They are supposed to get their training in airmanhood with the utmost secrecy," said one younger pilot at the city owned airport. "Some of them are just about ready to solo, and I understand that at least two of the leaders have ordered planes."

Wild Ones Not So Wild in Zoo; Must Be Babied
St. Louis.—Take it from George P. Vierheller, there's a difference between raising wild animals in their native surroundings and bringing them up in the rigid confines of a zoo.

Young animals in captivity, says the director of the St. Louis Zoological Gardens, must be pampered the same as any other babies. Diets must be scientifically balanced, living conditions made as favorable as possible, and the animals protected against some of their own primal instincts.

Yonah, the baby gorilla whose life was saved by an oxygen tent after a grim struggle with pneumonia, has a regular bill of fare consisting of ground beef, milk, fruit, graham crackers, vegetables, eggs, tea, malt and molasses.

In addition Yonah must take her ration of cod liver oil, whether she likes it or not. It's the old question of vitamins.

Hunter Provides Coast Chinese With "Courage"

Fort Bragg, Calif.—Frank Taaffe, Fort Bragg hunter, has probably the most unusual occupation in the world—that of supplying "courage" to San Francisco's Chinatown.

The Chinese—that is, those of the older generation—believe that to eat of the flesh of a wildcat is to endow the eater with courage and strength. Taaffe supplies the wildcats, which he traps alive in the mountains near here, and ships in crates to San Francisco.

Phone Directory Leads to Reunion of Brothers

Dubuque, Iowa.—Andrew Burkhart, sixty-one, and his brother, Joseph, left home about the same time forty-two years ago, going in opposite directions to seek their fortunes. For years Andrew searched for his brother in vain. Every time he passed through a town in his railroad work he looked in the telephone directory—hoping to see his brother's name. Then he happened through Dubuque, and, as usual, glanced in the phone book. There was his brother's name.

Firemen Are Called to Rescue Goat From Roof

Bristol, R. I.—Bristol firemen, accustomed to rescuing unroofed cats from trees and recapturing fugitive canaries, encountered a new one recently when they were asked to haul a goat off a veranda roof 30 feet above the street.

Cow's Kick Costs Finger
Hartford, N. Y.—Mrs. Margaret Palmer had one finger amputated a few days ago at the Memorial hospital. Mrs. Palmer's hand was struck by a cow, when the animal kicked while being milked.

Another Seizure.

Kingston agents seized alleged Scotch, rye and apple whiskey, gin and beer at the Union Hotel, Fishkill, Wednesday. Gustave Schrader was arrested and held for arraignment on a charge of possession and sale.

MAY CALL SPECIAL SESSION OF NEW YORK LEGISLATURE

Albany, N. Y., July 21 (AP).—The possibility of a special legislative session this fall loomed for New York state today as Governor Roosevelt met with legislative leaders to discuss the need for special relief legislation.

With state relief funds dwindling down below the $5,000,000 mark and mayors of the state pressing for larger grants to municipalities for welfare work, the governor was to consider with the lawmakers what steps New York should take looking to the welfare of its citizens in coming months.

Summoned to the conference were Senator Fearon and Speaker McGinnies, the Republican leaders, and Assemblyman Steingut and Senator Dunnigan, minority leaders.

The governor, after the mayors had urged upon him yesterday the need for a special session, remarked that he did not see how a session at this time would help.

GUARDSMEN ORDERED TO HOOSIER COAL MINES

Dugger, Ind., July 21 (AP).—Three companies of Indiana National Guardsmen were ordered today to the vicinity of the Hoosier coal mine, which 20 non-union workmen have refused to leave until assured protection from more than a thousand union sympathizers maintaining a picket around the shaft.

Sheriff Wesley Williams of Sullivan county was notified of the order this morning by Governor Harry G. Leslie, who said he would accompany the troops.

Officials explained the move was precautionary, pointing out the men in the mine have made no attempt to come out and that the attitude of the picketers should they attempt to do so was problematical. Thus far the 1,200 picketers have been orderly, said Sheriff Williams. They include miners and their wives.

HUDSON VALLEY VOLUNTEER FIREMEN MEET IN YONKERS

The 1933 convention of the Hudson Valley Firemen's Association will be held next June in Yonkers. This year Beacon was the convention city. The convention next year will start on June 20 and end on the 32nd.

Announce Stock Disposal Sale

Gregory and Co., local furniture merchants, announce the opening of a gigantic store-wide manufacturer's disposal sale today. In the preparation for this sale the owners have bought living room suites, upholstered chairs, rugs, mattresses, springs, beds and bedroom furniture besides scores of other articles for living room, bedroom and dining room from manufacturers of national reputation. Entire floors covering acres of ground filled with choice stocks were bought in many instances at less than cost of manufacture. Accumulations on account of cancellations, failures and bad accounts were bought up at their price. Some manufacturers were desperate need—on the verge of bankruptcy because of the amounts tied up in frozen stock. This sale event, which started Thursday, will be conducted for nine days according to the owners.

At Schumann's Hotel. Tonight, Friday and Saturday evenings there will be free dancing at Schumann's Hotel at Eddyville. Music to be furnished by the Knickerbocker Serenaders of Long Island City. Twenty years ago Mr. Schumann played with this same orchestra and they are now visiting Schumann, renewing old acquaintanceship and furnishing the music so that the many friends of Schumann may enjoy these nights of entertainment.

American Legion Held Convention

provide uniforms for Ulster's veterans to come.

County Tuberculosis Hospital.

People during the year has been at the Ulster County Hospital, through the county posts and auxiliaries. A plate, bearing the name of the Ulster County American Legion, has been placed on the door of the room. This work and we should do it.

West Point Trip.

Members of the Legion and Auxiliary attended American Legion Day at West Point in August, and a good time was had by all, even if it did cost a few dollars. We are indebted to Senator Wicks again for the use of a bus on this occasion.

Annual Stag Dinner.

Connie Heiselman, our old war hero, has been off for the splendid dinner at Golden Rule Inn. It was the biggest and best given by the Legion in Ulster county. Lester Elmendorf, his staff of helpers, also deserve credit for the way they handled the crowd.

My Appreciation.

I wish to express my thanks and appreciation to the officers of the Legion for their fine cooperation during the year. I thank Bill Graham, membership chairman, for his aid work. I also thank Commander Sweeney and Editor Joseph for the fine publicity given to the Legion in the Kingston Post throughout the year. I thank Bob Iseman for his fine handling of the dinner in Kingston. Ed Spafford. And I am very grateful to my comrades of Kingston for turning out in such a large number every time the Legion called them to. My deepest thanks go out to the rank and file of the Legion for the county for the support they gave my administration. I owe a debt of gratitude to Vice Commander Carmichael, and to Mr. William Graham, president of the Ulster County Auxiliary, the best Auxiliary in the State of New York. I am very grateful to Chaplain, the Rev. Comrade, for his fine support during the year.

In conclusion, let me say that the year has been one of the happiest of my life. It has been an honor and a privilege to have been elected to serve as your county commander. I only hope I have contributed in some small way to the progress of our organization. I wish you all success and happiness during the coming year. I never remember that our primary duty is to our disabled comrades and to the widows and orphans of our buddies who have answered the last roll call. Remember that the American Legion can never be betrayed by anyone or anything except the American Legion. Carry on, comrades.

EDWARD J. LUDTKE.
County Commander, Ulster County, East County Commander, Conn. Heiselman, in a glowing speech, elected for county commander, Bert S. Browning, of Woodstock. Mr. Browning was elected. Other officers elected were: Vice-commander, Charles Ronk of Wallkill; adjutant, Charles O'Brien of Woodstock; treasurer, Arthur Peski of Saugerties; service officers, Lester Elmendorf, Kingston; athletic officer, Chris Burhan of Saugerties. Burhan served in a similar capacity last year. The Rev. Edward Ton of Mt. Pleasant, chaplain, was also re-elected. The delegates were then nominated from the floor. Since the count is entitled to only eight delegates, eight alternates, a ballot was taken and the following delegates were elected:

John Lowther, Saugerties; Charles Hornbeck, Ellenville; Edward Ludtke, Kingston; Dr. Royal New Paltz; John Reyes, Highland; Lester C. Elmendorf, Kingston; John Feeler, Woodstock; Edward Erane, Wallkill.

Alternates were elected without objection as follows:

C. J. Heiselman, Kingston; Hugh M. Saugerties; William Graham, New Paltz; Charles Parker, New Paltz; Philip Schantz, Highland; El Bennett, Phoenixia; Robert Browning, Woodstock; Charles Ronk, New Paltz.

Woodstock Gets Trophy.

The Woodstock Post, which leads in membership for the year, was awarded the membership trophy by William Graham past county commander of Ellenville, chairman of the membership trophy.

Former Commander Heiselman held the various posts throughout the county to have application books filled out by all members who are eligible for the "Purple Heart" award. This honor is to be conferred on all veterans who were in the A. E. F. and those who were wounded in action under conditions that entitled the veteran to a wound chevron.

The decorations are to be presented by Major General J. G. Harbo, formerly Commanding General of the Second Division and Chief of Staff of the A. E. F. during the war. The awards are under way for a parade to be held here on the day the awards are given.

Resolutions Presented.

The most important resolution was one passed at the meeting of Kingston Post last Friday night which asked for the full payment of the bonus at the next session of Congress. The 14 delegates from Kingston Post to the county convention were instructed by the vote of the local post to support this resolution on the county floor.

The 14 delegates from Kingston Post to the county convention were instructed by the vote of the local post to support this resolution on the county floor.

It was the unanimous consensus of opinion among the county posts attending Kingston that the government was in no financial condition at present to pay the huge sum required, and the resolution was lost. A compromise resolution was passed, asking that the government be charged 4 1/2 per cent on loans made to veterans on adjusted service certificates, while the treasury was borrowing as low as 1 1/2 per cent with the result that the veteran who borrows $500 now on a $1,000 certificate would get practically nothing for the remainder of his certificate when it came due in 1945. The other $500 would be eaten up with compound interest at 4 1/2 per cent. The resolution called for cancelling the interest on loans already made and to be made, so that the veteran may get the balance when the certificate is due.

Another resolution asked that interest on loans made on government life insurance policy be decreased from 6 per cent, the present rate, to 4 per cent. Another resolution provided for amending the law to permit tax exemption on property purchased from the proceeds of loans on U. S. Adjusted Service certificates. A resolution was also passed, asking the State Judge Advocate of the American Legion to ascertain whether or not under the state law American Legion posts are obliged to pay water taxes, as ruled recently in this city by the examining board of the State Comptroller's Office, and by the city's corporation counsel and permit that the law be amended to exempt Legion posts from water tax in the same manner as post buildings are exempt from general taxes.

The resolutions:

Whereas, it has been recently ruled by the Attorney General of the State of New York that property purchased by veterans of the World War with the proceeds of loans made on U. S. Adjusted Service Certificates are not exempt from taxation under the provisions of New York State Tax Law 4, subdivision 5, as last amended by Law 1930, chapter 346, which law specifically exempts property purchased with the proceeds of a pension, bonus or insurance granted by the United States or by this state for military or naval services to the extent of the amount of such pension, bonus or insurance applied toward the purchase price of the property.

Be it resolved, by the Ulster county American Legion, in convention assembled in the City of Kingston this 20th day of July, 1932, that the Department Legislative Committee be instructed to prepare and have introduced into the next session of the New York State Legislature a bill amending the law cited above causing the exemption from taxation, except for local school purposes and for the construction of streets and highways, all property purchased with the proceeds of loans made on U. S. Adjusted Service Certificates, and that this resolution be forwarded to the Resolutions Committee of the State Convention of the American Legion, Department of New York, to be held in Brooklyn on August 25, 26, and 27.

Introduced by Kingston Post No. 150.

Whereas, after having been exempt from water tax in the city of Kingston since the American Legion Memorial Building was built in 1925, and

Whereas, the Water Department of the city of Kingston has notified Kingston Post, No. 150, under date of June 14, 1932, that free water service to the American Legion Memorial Building is prohibited under Section 10 of Article VIII of the Constitution of the State of New York, and that hereafter Kingston Post must pay for water consumed at the usual rate of fifty cents per thousand feet, after the installation of a water meter, although water meters are not installed in most of the buildings in the city of Kingston.

Be it resolved, by the Ulster County American Legion, in convention assembled, in the city of Kingston, on July 20, 1932, that a ruling on this interpretation of the Constitution of the State of New York, and the laws, acts and statutes thereof, be requested from the Judge Advocate of the Department of New York, and that if in his opinion remedial legislation is necessary for the exempting of club houses of the American Legion in the State of New York, that this resolution be forwarded to the resolutions committee of the state convention of the American Legion, to be held in Brooklyn, N. Y., on August 25th to 27th, with the request that the convention adopt a resolution instructing the state legislative committee to have introduced at the next session of the New York state legislature suitable legislation that will definitely and positively exempt buildings belonging to the American Legion from the payment of water tax in the same manner that such buildings are exempt from the payment of other taxes.

The retiring officers were given a rising vote of thanks and were heartily applauded. The newly elected officers took the chairs and promised to exert every effort to make the next year in the county Legion a banner year in membership and service to comrade and community, state and nation.

Heartily Endorse "Man Who Played God"

An extract copied from the Wednesday evening Freeman is most gratifying to the Federation of Women's Clubs of Kingston who have been striving to better conditions. Along with entertainment and better pictures. The following is an extract taken from the notice we assume prepared for the paper by one of our writers connected with the Real Theatre. The extract is as follows:

With the theatres cluttered with stories of sex, lust and suspense, this picture should prove a welcome and much needed relief. The picture played to is "The Man Who Played God".

We as club women heartily agree with you and wish to publicly thank you for bringing to us pictures of this kind. We heartily endorse this most meritorious picture and consider it one of the most worthwhile pictures ever brought to us. We recognize George Arliss one of the great characters. With him in the title role and with a cast of famous actors, including Ivan Simpson and Betty Davis, we could not fail to enjoy outstanding entertainment.

Combined with the best actors of today we have an unusual story of a man who loses faith through affliction, and finds it again through his fellowman, thereafter spending his time making life better for his fellowman.

After an awakening to the needs and sorrows of others around him, he becomes a medium for good, eventually regaining his faith together with a great measure of happiness. The story is outstanding from every angle, story, direction, acting, photography and entertainment value. The story was formerly produced as a silent. (West Coast Committee.)

As chairman of motion pictures for the Federation of Women's Clubs of Kingston I most heartily endorse this picture and ask the co-operation of every club woman in Kingston, together with your friends, in trying to show to the managers of our theatres that we are with them heart and soul if they in turn will bring the worthwhile pictures to us. We can prove this only by our cooperation along box office receipts. That is what they must base their opinions of a taking picture on.

MRS. FRANK F. LUTHER, Chairman Motion Pictures, Federation Women's Clubs of Kingston.

Young Mr. Cupid Has Slack Year

Evidently the depression is having its effect on the marriage mart in Kingston for to date but 84 marriage licenses have been issued by the city clerk since the first of the year. The old saying that "two can live as cheaply as one" evidently does not ring true with most folks for it has not resulted in rings being placed on the fingers of blushing brides, that is if brides blush these days.

LUTHER LEAGUE TO HOLD LAMN SOCIAL

The Senior Luther League of the Lutheran Church of the Redeemer takes its vacation for the summer for this evening the League will hold a lantern social on the lawn of Mrs. E. Gerschwiler, 267 West Chestnut street. In case of rain the lantern social will be held in the church basement. Warts and Bessie attend. The League considers themselves fortunate in having secured so attractive a lawn as that of the Gerschwiler family. It is a beautiful place for an open air lantern social. Prices will be charged for the various items on the menu. The lawn will be properly illuminated with colored lights.

The annual picnic of the Sunday school proved to be a great success. The day proved to be one of the most favorable enjoyed in many years. The Ladies' Aid Society as usual furnished a very attractive luncheon. The children enjoyed the contests, and games. The picnic was closed by a baseball game between the married men and the single men, the married men winning by a score of 5-2. The feature of the game was the pitching of Harry Volkert of the married men's team, who allowed the single men only one hit.

CLINTONDALE

Clintondale, July 21.—The pond owned by Frank Terhune on the Highland-Medena state road was drained on Tuesday afternoon and the young fishermen of the village were sparing seas. Many received large catches weighing approximately two pounds apiece.

The Sunday School Class of Mrs. Joseph Pampinello and Miss Ruth Williamson held a very successful picnic on Tuesday afternoon under the large maple tree in Bert Minard's pasture lot. About 100 children were present, each having an excellent time. Frankfurters and rolls were served the youngsters.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl G. Gerald have returned from their honeymoon and are at home on Hillside Farm where a newly decorated and newly furnished home awaited them. On Monday evening a welcome home party was tendered the couple by a number of relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis, Jr., spent Thursday evening in New Paltz as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Smith.

A large number of tickets have been sold for the firemen's clambake to be held on Saturday, July 23, at the Ardona baseball diamond.

Tobias Cappelz has a new truck. About 100 persons of the community tendered Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gerald a skimmington at their home on Tuesday evening.

Millions of Meteors

There are some who believe that the 200,000 craters on the moon are the visible evidence of past pelting by millions of meteors. The late Prof. T. C. Chamberlain thought that 20,000,000 meteors enter the earth's atmosphere every day. Professor Shapely believes that the number may be a million, if we consider particles of dust as meteors.

Notes Received From Scout Camp

The following notes have been received from the camp scribe at the Boy Scout camp:

Camp opened for the second period with 59 boys.

Everybody thinks they can play volleyball.

The Indian village is being improved every day. Each teepee is now identified by its tribal name.

Most of the boys have enrolled for the A. R. C. work.

Stu Parks has a big water meet planned for Sunday afternoon, when the visitors will be here.

Chef is afraid the cows in this section will stampede if the boys continue to drink so much milk.

The Cowboy division had three new tents added to it this week.

Members of the Rotary Clubs of Catskill and Kingston visited camp Tuesday.

One of the boys asked Eddie Doolan if he could make a pair of "those rubbers." He meant moccasins.

Movies are being taken of camp this session. All of the boys are acting like Clark Gables.

Cravats Stopped By Art Wood, 5-0, Getting Only 4 Hits

Art Wood, Knights of Columbus' best pitcher, proved to the fans at the Athletic Field Wednesday evening that his last two victories were real by striking his third straight win when he whitewashed the Northern Neckwear, 5-0. His elbowing in the last few weeks has brought the Casey up from an obscure position to fifth place in the City League to a virtual tie with the Forats for first place. In percentage points the Butchers lead, but in games won and lost the two teams are on even terms.

Wood held the Cravats to four mealy hits, one of the scratch variety, and his performance was almost on an equal with his two-hit exhibition against the Forats a fortnight ago. Wood, who has the disadvantage of having only one arm, also drew big applause from the crowd by hitting safely in the fifth inning to start his team on a rally.

"Fucker" Davis, Wood's opponent, also turned in a neat job, yielding only seven hits. But he made the bad mistake of allowing two to be clustered in the third inning and four in the fifth.

In the early innings all indications pointed to a close game and it was not until the third inning that the Casey scored. In this inning they registered twice, which later proved to be the winning markers.

Both runs came after two outs were made. Burgevin singled to center field and Steigerwald drew a pass to first base. Clarke sent both runners home with a double to left field.

The fifth inning saw the Casey's new up the game. Wood led with his single to right field and Palmer repeated to the same spot. Wood taking third. Burgevin fled out to Tomasek in center field and Wood scored. Steigerwald tripped to left field to send Palmer home and Clarke singled to left field to score Steigerwald.

The Cravats managed to advance a runner to third in the fourth and fifth innings, but each time Wood rose to his best and halted them from scoring.

SIDELINERS

Jimmy Turk got a big hand in the first inning when he dug Clarke's grounder out of the dirt back of third and then tossed him out.

After Steigerwald tripped in the fifth inning he received a bad crack on the head by the ball as it was being relayed to third base. Jimmy failed to slide.

The Casey's defense was practically perfect. Steigerwald and Clarke starting.

The game was quite a contrast of the night before and played in three quarters of the time it took the Rail-roads and Lumbermen to perform.

The Talist Boxmen and the Forats Butchers meet at the Athletic Field this evening. This game no doubt will go a long way toward deciding a winner of the first half of the City League race as a win for either team will give it a big advantage. Nick Haber is expected to be on the hill for the Boxmen with Tomasek behind the plate. Jim Voelker probably will do the hurling for the Butchers; Jack Robins will be the receiver.

Tagging Major League Bases

(By The Associated Press.)

It is rather late in the season for the Cleveland Indians to start getting somewhere in the American League—but the results of their recent tour of the eastern sector indicate that they still may make some progress.

The Indians, playing the road, have outshone all rivals in both circuits in the intersectional series which winds up today and with a few good breaks at home in the next week or two they stand a good chance of getting into the fight.

Three intersectional games today remain before the final records for the series can be compiled, but Cleveland's record of 14 victories to four defeats can't be beaten. The best other records so far are the New York Yankees' 12 victories and five defeats, the 12-7 records of the Philadelphia Athletics and Pittsburgh Pirates, both of which can be improved today, and the Chicago Cubs' 11-7 mark. And all these teams play on their home grounds.

The Red Men topped off their tour yesterday by trouncing the Boston Red Sox 8 to 1 as Mel Harder gave up only seven hits for his fourth straight triumph of the visit. Johnny Allen gave the Yanks some more first class flinging and they made it five straight over the Chicago White Sox, 7 to 2. He allowed only five hits and whiffed seven.

The Athletics won 8 to 5 over the St. Louis Browns for their sixth straight victory and the Browns' eleventh defeat, collecting 16 hits, including Mickey Cochrane's 14th homer. Washington salvaged a game out of the Detroit series after losing three straight and going into the second division. The Senators hunted three of their nine hits with a couple of walks and a useful fly in the sixth inning to score all their runs in a 4-1 triumph.

Two Homers For Klein

Chuck Klein was the leading figure in the National League program although he complained of a stomach ailment before the Phillies' game against Pittsburgh's leaders. All he did on an "off" day was to climb home runs 27 and 28 and a triple and led the way to a 6 to 2 victory. Eddie Healy aided considerably with five-hit pitching.

The Boston Braves, who had a day off bracketed with Cincinnati, were the only ones to profit much by Pittsburgh's defeat. The second place Chicago Cubs took a 9-1 beating from the New York Giants and remained two games behind and as far ahead of Boston.

Burlleigh Grimes, making his first start for the Cubs since July 4, failed to survive the fourth inning. Southpaw Carl Hubbell, pitched a seven hit game, made three safeties himself and allowed only one man to reach third after Woody English hit for the circuit in the fifth inning.

Cards Pounded 5 Pitchers

The Brooklyn Dodgers tried five pitchers and didn't find one who could throw past the St. Louis bats with any regularity. The Cards pounded all five impartially for 22 hits and a 16 to 5 victory that gave them an even break for 16 games against the east. Jake Flowers, ex-Brooklynite, had a field day against his old team with a homer and four singles in six times at bat.

Famous Sailor's Boyhood

Various histories disagree as to the age of John Paul Jones when he came to America. He was just a boy and went to the home of a brother in Virginia, where he stayed for three years. It is claimed by some that during that time he studied. After that until the time of our Revolution he sailed upon various sailing vessels, and until 1776 it is probable that these vessels were engaged in the slave trade.

SPORT SLANTS

(By Alan J. Gould, Associated Press Sports Editor.)

The dead past has neatly buried the boxing dead that swooned all over the premises after Jack Sharkey marched out of the Madison Square Garden bowl with Max Schmeling's heavyweight championship.

The boys have stopped arguing over that decision, probably on the basis that after all nothing much happened that night to warrant slugging out a batch of feverish words on a typewriter, either for the prosecution or the defense. So arguments have turned into general philosophizing into conjecture.

The sum total of the general heavyweight prize fighting situation, and its effect on metropolitan promoters, particularly the Garden, comes down to this:

1. That James J. (Jimmy) Johnston, now in charge of Garden boxing, will be on his own again next summer, probably attempting to promote a return Sharkey-Schmeling match at one of the ball-parks, despite his three-year contract with the garden.

2. That Schmeling's defeat was the best thing that could have happened to him at this stage of his career, inasmuch as it loosens him from the restrictions of a champion and gives him the opportunity to fight often enough really to develop his full capabilities.

3. That Sharkey, chained by the inactivity that always settles upon the titleholder, now 33 years old, probably will go as far back during the next year as Schmeling should come forward.

4. That Schmeling will be the first heavyweight champion in modern history to regain his title after once losing it.

5. That the heavyweight title division of the fight game at least has "turned the corner."

Garden "Marriage" Shaky

The promotional situation at the Garden today is as interesting as anything going on among the prize fighters.

All during the summer of 1931, Jimmy Johnston, the dapper little friend of New York state's mightiest politicians, was a particular thorn in the side of the Garden.

Thwarted in his efforts to lease a ball park as a rival fight field on Manhattan Island, Johnston moved across the river into Brooklyn, took over the Dodger stronghold, and proceeded to steal all the flinty plums in sight. His outstanding achievements were the promotion of Jack Sharkey's 15-round draw with Mickey Walker, and the sailor's conquest of Primo Carnera.

Jimmy Counts "Losses"

Such opposition brought an olive branch from the Garden in the form of the big job promoting its fights. Johnston, also wanting that berth, went into office with a great flare of political drums. It was called the perfect union, the marriage of the Garden and its strongest rival.

But now Johnston, playing an inactive part in the promotion of the second Sharkey-Schmeling fight, wishes he were back on his own again. He has a strong personal hold on Sharkey, the new champion.

Johnston's three-year contract with the Garden totals $45,000, a sum he might have made promoting one good match himself. The realization is growing on him that the Garden bought off its strongest rival very cheap.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

Tottering Minors to Make Comeback, Says Former Giant Pilot

John J. McGraw Recalls Falling Out of Subsidary Leagues in Past While Discussing Virtues of Baseball—No Other Game Can Take Its Place, the Veteran Comments.

By EDWARD J. NEIL (Associated Press Sports Writer)
New York, July 21 (AP).—The greatest problem facing baseball, in the opinion of John McGraw, is the resurrection of the small minor leagues.

But baseball, he believes, has solved that problem in the past and will do it again.

"Back in 1899," the retired manager of the Giants remembered, "the country was swept with an epidemic of strikes and hard times and the small minor leagues fell away by the dozen. But they came back. They'll do it again."

When you're gone as far with baseball as the calm, silver-haired McGraw, the troubles of the game today fade in comparison with the life and death struggle of the past.

McGraw, joined the National League in 1892 when the Baltimore Orioles became members of a twelve-club circuit, saw the birth of the rival American League in 1900 and helped Ban Johnson in the junior league's struggle for existence, left him after a falling out to build the New York Giants into a multi-millionaire outfit during the past 30 years.

He helped fight down the threat of the Federal League, saw the game reel back from scandals such as the "Black Sox" World Series affair of 1919. And the confidence that comes of triumph in every test is unshaken.

Baseball Stronger Than Ever

"Baseball is the national game more so now than ever before," he insisted. "There are millions of dollars invested in the sport. The big minor leagues have grown to the point where their plants and business affairs rival those of the major leagues."

"All that means interest on the part of the sports public in baseball, an interest that never dies. There came lean years and hard times, naturally. That happens to every line of endeavor. They come in cycles. But it is to the everlasting pride of baseball that of all enterprises, baseball has held up the best."

The job now, as McGraw sees it, is to revive the Class C and D leagues that have been falling away steadily in the past two or three years so that the youngsters who come into the game may have their chances to develop gradually.

Loss to Youth

"There used to be 60 or so leagues of that class," he said, "and now there are left only eight or ten. That's bad for young fellows. It takes away their incentive to play the game as a career. They have no place to go for development. They get discouraged."

"So a lot of youngsters get out on the golf links and become caddies. They're the sand lot kids who should be playing baseball. But they get a bit of money and all youngsters like to be able to earn something. I don't think golf would ever take them away completely. There's enough young manpower in this country for both golf and baseball."

McGraw's Start

"The day I was 17—the 17th of April, 1890—I joined my first ball club in Olean, N. Y. I played my first game at third base that day and I made a couple of errors. In writing back about that some of the boys have gotten it as high as nine errors. But that makes no difference. It wasn't much of a beginning."

"But the point is this. There's something about baseball, for a young fellow, that gets in his blood, keeps him going on, overcoming bad beginnings and if the opportunity is there for him, struggling up finally to make the grade. That makes a man of him."

"Once I started to play baseball I never was any problem to anyone. I got so tired I was glad to get home and get to sleep. While it kept me out of trouble it was developing my body, making my mind keen. It keeps all youngsters off the streets, out of trouble."

"That's what it does for them and that's why it is the national game. Nothing else will ever challenge it seriously as the American sport."

College a Help

To a certain extent McGraw feels that the colleges, where more and more former big league players are taking over the coaching job, will aid in bringing out big league material. But he wants for the big leaguers of tomorrow the same opportunity he had—the chance to fight a way up from class to class, developing courage and confidence, learning manliness as he came.

Corruption Long Grown

The corruption is a native of the south of Europe and has been in cultivation for more than 2,000 years.

Wright Ready To Defend Crown Against Sullivan

Only one more day remains before the clang of the opening gong starts at the very promising card of American Legion boxing bouts at the new arena on the site of the former Rustic Golf Course, corner of Broadway and West O'Reilly street. The outdoor show, which will be the first in three years, and the first amateur boxing bill in more than a month, is expected to draw a record crowd and present plenty of thrills Friday night.

The bouts, widely heralded throughout Ulster county, are creating considerable talk among music pastime fans, who are expected to come from far and near to see the scraps. Featuring the bill is a match of long standing that had to be cancelled last May because one of the contestants developed blood poisoning and could not appear at the Servicenter, where the amateur ring wars formerly were held.

Scrappers Ready

Jack Sullivan of Marlborough is the pugilist who could not go through with his match with Jack Jerry Wright of Poughkeepsie, but now is ready to meet him for the championship of the Amateur Federation of America and contemplates taking the laurels from the capable negro battler. Besides holding the crown of the Federation, Wright is also the heavyweight of prominence who won the Golden Gloves tournament in New York.

Word from the Poughkeepsie boy's camp says that he is in the pink of condition and ready to defend his title, which he hopes to retain as he has against some rough and ready scrappers such as "Big" Boone Schultz of Port Jervis whom he defeated twice in Kingston. Previous to his two victories here, Wright lost to the Tri-State City battler at Woodcliff Park, Poughkeepsie. All of the scraps were gingery contests.

Long-Standing Match

The Wright-Sullivan match was made by Doc Studer on the suggestion of Jack Daley, who has been interested in prize fighting for some time, and is looked forward to by

Preliminaries to the big scrap

Preliminaries to the big scrap promise action galore and are subject of many complimentary marks concerning the first card. Doc Studer has made up since 27. Indications are that the card will be well filled long before time of starting rolls around.

Admission Reduction

Besides the calibre of the bouts, another reason for a capricious crowd is the reduction in admission price, which can be found in an advertisement elsewhere in The Freeman.
